Pertinent Topics Discussed by H.C.

Colleges, churches and hospitals in the United States are feeling the lack of support from wealthy men who were very liberal in bequests and donations to these institutions. Several reasons for this are given. Some of these generous patrons are dead; some lost their money in the slump; some quit giving voluntarily when succession duties were imposed. The newly rich have not acquired the habit. They argue that the government can be trusted to get their money from them when living and after death. It was all right for Andrew Carnegie to say it was a disgrace to die rich, but that now the State sees to it that no such disgrace shall come to them. According to the Saturday Evening Post the colleges are suffering deservedly because many professors assaulted the goose that was laying the golden eggs for them. The same might be said with regard to many clergymen who attacked the system under which large benefactions were made to churches and missions. It is not a bad sign, however, Church, colleges and hospitals are all the healthier if maintained by small contributions from the many rather than large contributions from a few. In the meantime, staffs have to be reduced and other economies applied, which in itself, may not be any great disadvantage for institutions, financed by governments or wealthy philanthropists have a tendency to grow unwieldy.

Give a thought to ex-Judge Stubbs. He is an ex-Judge because of charges made by Hon. W. J. Major, Attorney-General of the Liberal Progressive government of Manitoba. Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Minister of Justice in the Conservative government at Ottawa ordered an investigation and the charges were proven. Stubbs comes out of his enforced retirement and polls the highest vote ever polled in a Manitoba provincial election.

What does it all mean? The man should never have been made a judge in the first place, but, having been made a Judge, and being guilty of conduct unbecoming a Judge, the Attorney-General had no option but to get rid of him. Before and during the trial he made violent, irresponsible speeches that showed him unfit for the position, yet he became somewhat of a popular hero just because he was defiant of authority, bad enough in anyone else, but intolerable in a Judge. While basking in his proletarian popularity he ran in a rural riding in Saskatchewan but was badly defeated.

Social Credit Group Formed at Union Jack

A gathering of people of Union Jack district was held in the Union Jack school on Friday, August 7th. Rev. Peter Dawson, M.L.A. for Little Bow, gave an address on registration and the activities of the legislature during the session. The meeting was opened for questions, following the address. Several were asked and answered.

A Social Credit group was formed with officers elected as follows: R. S. Shatto, president; Wm. McMullen, Sr., vice-president; Mrs. Wm. Burgess, secretary-treasurer. Twenty-one joined the membership with many awaiting membership forms before joining. The group was named the Union Jack group. The next meeting was planned for the evening of Friday, September 3rd, at Union Jack school.

Harmony Council Again Discuss Hospital Area

Motions for Re-arranging Townships in Hospital Area Lost; Issue Will Be Dealt With Next Month

The regular monthly meeting of the Council of the Municipal District of Harmony, was held in the municipal office, Champion, August 6th. All members of the Council were present, and Reeve Griffin presided.

Secretary read the minutes of a special meeting that was held on Saturday, August 1st, and on motion of Councillor Hopkins, same were approved.

Secretary presented application for relief from Henry Kaiser of Reid Hill. This was discussed for a time and Councillor Hopkins moved that this application be turned down. Carried.

The Council next discussed seizures under the Agricultural Relief Act and Councillor Somerville moved that the secretary be authorized to make any adjustments in respect to same, that he may see fit. Carried.

Communication was read from E. Nelson of Barons, in respect to his hospital account. Reeve Griffin moved that secretary write Mr. Nelson and voice the council's disapproval of his suggestions, and that the council demand further payments immediately. Motion carried.

Secretary read application from the Old Age Pensions Board regarding pension for Charles Frances. Councillor Ellis moved that this application be approved. The motion carried unanimously.

A discussion arose in respect to persons having hospital accounts, etc. due the Municipality. Councillor Matlock moved that, in future, any person who has wages due for labor, and who owes any hospital account, the secretary be authorized to deduct 50 per cent. from such wages, and apply on the respective accounts. Carried.

Secretary read a communication from the Supervisor of Municipal Hospitals, in respect to joining in with the M. D. of Little Bow in a proposed hospital area. This matter was discussed for a considerable time, and Councillor Ellis moved the following: "That the Municipal District of Harmony, No. 128, apply to the department to have part of Townships 14-23, 14-24, and 2 miles north of township line which takes in part of Townships 15-22, 15-23 and 15-24. Motion lost."

Councillor Hopkins moved that

POPULATION INCREASES

Vulcan One of Few Towns in Alberta Showing an Increase of Population Over 1931 Figures; Increase of 62

Since 1931 Vulcan's population has increased by 62 persons. In 1931 population of Vulcan was 803. Figures released on Friday by the Dominion statistician showed population of Vulcan as at June 1, 1936, as being 865. Every day the bureau is releasing figures by press bulletins, and most of the towns in the province have shown a loss over the 1931 figures. Vulcan is one of a few with a gain. It is apparent in the majority of cases that towns and villages are losing population. The loss may be gained by the cities, the figures of which have not yet been released. Or, perhaps, the province as a whole is decreasing in population by emigration.

Nearby towns all show marked losses. The population of Claresholm has dropped 107, with a total now of 1049. Nanton is now 709 and five years ago was 739. In 1931 the population of High River was 1459, it is now 1356. Barons shows a drop from 284 to 262; Arrowwood a drop from 193 to 248.

ENTERTAINMENT TIME TABLE FOR DOLLAR DAY, AUG. 27th

"Mutt" Show for the Kiddies, 1.30. Children's Bicycle Races, 2. Free Movie Show—1st show starts at 5 and continues until 10 p.m., with three screenings.

STORES WILL REMAIN OPEN DURING EVENING AUG. 27th, DOLLAR DAY

Dollar Day, August 27th, Thursday of next week, will be as an extra Saturday to Vulcan merchants. Stores will remain open until 11 p.m. o'clock during that day for the convenience of shoppers. A committee from the Vulcan Board of Trade has interviewed the Town Council regarding this arrangement and approval has been given. This will give Vulcan visitors ample time to attend the free motion picture program, given by the merchants, and visit all places of business for purchase of the many special values offered.

HARVEST HALTED BY HEAVY SHOWERS

Elements have been against the wheat grower this year. When rain is wanted none comes; when rain is not wanted rain comes. A ten week period of dry weather—broken late last Thursday evening and early Friday morning. The district to the north had heavy rainfall last Thursday afternoon. During the week end .29 of an inch of rain was recorded by gauge. Saturday was clear; Sunday cloudy and warm; Monday was clear and with farmers back in the fields. But harvest was halted for several days when .38 of an inch of rain fell early Tuesday morning and continued intermittently throughout the day. In east portions of the district heavy showers were reported Tuesday evening. Wednesday was bright and clear with indications that the balance of the crop will soon begin the bins.

CIRCULATION 1,775

Circulation of this special shopping edition of The Advocate numbers 1,775. It will reach four times that number of readers, given publicity for over 50 subscribers for the August 27th Dollar Day. Circulation was made in a 30-mile radius, reaching Blackie in the north, Carmangay in the south, Nanton in the west and Lomond in the east and all towns, villages and hamlets within the area.

Children's Bicycle Races For Shopping Day

Another attractive prize event is being offered to the children of Vulcan and district in connection with Dollar Day, a community shopping event, on Thursday, August 27th, by the Vulcan Board of Trade. This feature is bicycle races. They will be staged immediately following the "mutt" show, probably at 2 o'clock. Three events are listed in the program. For children 12 years and under, a race will be held for both boys and girls; prizes, first 75c, second 50c for each race. A free-for-all race for children 16 years and under, is another. The winner in the last race will receive $1.00, second place 75c. The race course will run from the station road to the fire hall, all uphill grade. Large entries are expected in all three events.

WHEAT GRADE AVERAGE No. 3

Despite the serious set-back from the severe drought, wheat in the Vulcan territory is making grades far better than expected. When the sun beat down and wilted the plants, it was said the No. 4 grade and feed was about all the farmers could anticipate. But the prophets were wrong. Wheat growers are reporting grades from No. 2 to No. 4, with no feed grade being delivered to district elevators. The average grade being delivered is No. 3.

APPOINT TEACHER

At a meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Vulcan School District No. 1902, held early in the week, C. J. Enright was appointed teacher for Vulcan schools to fill the position vacated by the resignation of D. A. Allred. Mr. Enright comes to the Vulcan staff highly recommended by inspectors and school boards alike. With ability as a physical trainer with special qualifications, Mr. Enright will fill in the athletic sports of the campus, as Mr. Allred did. He will have charge of the intermediate division of the Vulcan classes when the school opens the first week in September. Grades seven, eight and nine are now termed as intermediate grades.

SOUND FINANCIAL POSITION

Townpeople can well be proud of the sound financial position of their town, Vulcan. While other municipal governments find foundations crumbling, Vulcan maintains a sound position. Balance as at July 31st, 1936, was $11,539.37, a nice sum to tide the town through any crisis. The balance at July 1st was $14,521.32. Collections through the month were very slow, totalling only $241.45. Tax collections were practically nil. Only $2.97 was collected on municipal tax. In the same period the payments totalled $3,224.40 an amount that cut down the surplus recorded at June 30th. Chief of the payments was the Vulcan School District for requisition, a sum of $1,916.75. All payments were routine in nature.

THEY WON'T TALK

Although the number of electors registering for the social credit dividend is of vital importance to everyone, yet the persons in charge of the Vulcan registration will not make any statements to the press. They just won't talk. And tell reporters to stop coming around. If anything is of public interest, this registration business is. The great number of party supporters want to know how many have registered to date and how many forms have been taken out and not yet returned. This is important information that we would like to be able to give social crediters and non-party people, it concerns them both, but we regret that it is unobtainable. Why, we do not know.

Hundreds Expected Visit Town for Buying Carnival

Dogs Day, Too, With Kiddies "Mutt" Show

One of the pleasing features of the Dollar Day, community shopping event, for the children, will be the "mutt" show with several prizes for the "homeliest" looking dogs. Dogs—lean ones, fat ones, pug-nosed dogs, pointed-nosed dogs, brown ones and black ones—any kind of dog can be entered in the show by children 14 years and under.

Children are asked to bring their "mutts" with them on August 27th. The show starts at 1.30 o'clock in the afternoon and the dogs will be paraded on the main street as the judging takes place. Three dollars will be offered for first prize, $2.00 for second and $1.00 for third. With such inviting cash prizes, the entries should be large. Clergy of the town have been invited to act as judges, so no disputes are anticipated.

This is the first time that such a "mutt" show has been offered to Vulcan and district owners, and, if the event proves successful, which it should, the show will probably be a feature of other community days. The event is being held under auspices of the Vulcan Board of Trade. Other attractions are offered for children during the day.

Prosperity Bonds Circulate Vulcan

Small Issue Circulates Freely; Stores Accept Certificates in Limited Quantities; Few Without Limit.

Practically every merchant in Vulcan has had a Alberta Prosperity Certificate pass through his hands. The circulation in town is very small, giving the "velocity" dollars a chance to circulate freely. Only two places of business in town have advertised the willingness to take the certificates, Morley's Groceries and F. M. Anderson and Co. Ltd. A survey of the town indicates that the "scrip" is being accepted by most of the businessmen and merchants in limited quantities only. They are "feeling" the scheme out to ascertain how fast they can be passed on. Some places are only taking them on old accounts, others discounting them, still others ask certain stipulations from customers who tender them as a medium of exchange. A good number of the small amounts that have been circulating the town have been picked up as souvenirs.

No certificates were distributed this month in the immediate Vulcan district. All being tendered in Vulcan have drifted in from Milo and Champion. It is understood that Milo merchants have been offered the "velocity" money in large quantities, while Champion merchants have taken many. The largest number taken by a Vulcan store would not total over 25, giving little concern as to how they could be passed along.

Before the certificates started to circulate, members of the Vulcan Social Credit group made a check-up of all merchants in town as to their acceptance of the bonds or not. Result of the survey was promised The Advocate, but without avail, for on several occasions have officials of the group been approached for the result and have yet failed to offer it to the local press.

Dollar Day. Many values that will startle you for a dollar! Many hundreds under $1.00. You will save money in Vulcan August 27th. Free entertainment, too!

Merchants Offer Unheard-of Specials During One Day That Will Prove Shoppers' Paradise

Vulcan merchants are in readiness for one of the largest crowd of shoppers to ever visit the town on Thursday, August 27th. The occasion is the first "Dollar Day", a community shopping day sponsored by the Vulcan Board of Trade and supported by 99% of the business men. Work advanced rapidly on the germ of thought that started last week with a meeting of the merchants' section of the Trade Board.

Another meeting was held, and during the week-end and early this week 48 names were signed to the paper that said the idea would be supported. With this encouraging number behind the idea, plans were quickly made. Banners were painted, cards were made for windows, advertising plans made in short order.

Entertainment ideas were numerous. All merchants said the shoppers should be entertained when brought to town. The Board of Trade arranged for the showing of a splendid picture at the Vulcan theatre, to be screened most of the afternoon and evening. A "mutt" show was planned for the kiddies, as were bicycle races. With good cash prizes offered. And the show—entirely free, said the merchants. Tickets were printed in readiness and all supporting merchants will have these on hand to give to you when you visit their places of business. The only stipulation was that anyone wishing to attend the show would have to visit the stores to procure the tickets.

And so all plans were made and dealt with in turn. Developments have led to what the sponsors think will be the biggest day Vulcan ever had. Details of the day are given throughout the news columns.

BANNERS TELL OF WELCOME

Huge banners, painted by Sign-painter Rich, stand at the main road entrances to Vulcan to give the first welcome to shoppers that visit the town during the Dollar Day shopping event on August 27th. The signs read: "Welcome to Vulcan—$1 Shopping tickets from your merchants." The banners that grace the roadways are supplemented by similar banners that appear in windows of merchants that have backed the Board of Trade in sponsoring the event.

Free Movies Offered Dollar Day Shoppers

A free show for every shopper attending Vulcans' Dollar Day, August 27th, by courtesy of your merchant. And what a show! Manager Robson has obtained an excellent feature for the occasion, Al Jolson in "The Singin' Kid," with a complete program of short subjects, a complete two-hour program. How do you get your free tickets? Just drop in and see any one of the 48 merchants who are supporting this event and they will gladly give you one for every member of your family. No obligations. You do not have to make a purchase to get the tickets—no strings attached to the offer. Names of supporting merchants are shown in the two large pages of advertising contained in this issue. All these business houses will have banners on display in their windows. You cannot miss them with practically 100% behind the Dollar Day.

R. D. McELROY News Editor

FREEDOM WITHIN THE PRESS

The freedom of the press is illustrated to very high degree by Baron Beaverbrook, proprietor of the London Daily Express. His star cartoonist David Low, is paid $50,000 and is free to make fun of Beaverbrook editorial policies to whatever extent he desires.

It is recorded in "Time" that Low's favorite character is Colonel Blimp, the walrus-mustached, paunchy Tory, who represents Lord Beaverbrook's typical subscriber. Colonel Blimp is pictured in characteristic settings, thoroughly agreeing with Beaverbrook's policies only to reduce these to absurdity. In one of the clever cartoons, Blimp is saying: "Gad sir, Beaverbrook is right. A conference should be held at once for the U.S.A. to pay back the money Europe owes her."

Another—"Gad sir, Beaverbrook is right. We must give up the League of Nations until it promises to have nothing to do with foreigners."

Last year Lord Beaverbrook remarked "Let us shake the dust of quarrelsome Europe from our feet, and turn to our kith and kin in United States." With this as a theme cartoonist Low pictured his boss as a small puzzled pilgrim landing in U.S. on the new Mayflower. Before him stands a huge crowd, labelled "Swedish Americans," "Norwegian Americans," "Italian Americans," "German Americans" and so on. All wore tortoiseshell glasses.

To show the progress of man A.D. 1935, Low presents a hog facing a man across a trough of "nationalism swirl." The hog is saying, "You poor sap, they kill me to eat, but they kill you just for your own good."

The members of Britain's present government, the cartoonist presents as sly and hardened gangsters. Prime Minister Baldwin, a derby pulled far down on his head, a blackjack in his hand, faces the reader saying "You know you can trust me." In the dark background the League of Nations lies slugged and dazed.

Everything is grist for this cartoonist's mill. He is not only at liberty to make fun of the public, but to make fun also of his boss and the policies which he advocates—and he gets $50,000 a year for "being himself."

ENTERING THE CRUCIBLE

Although, almost without exception, the weekly papers in Alberta, as well as the dailies, have opposed the government plan of Social Credit, this does not offer ultimate proof that it is wrong. But it is proof that opposition is not confined to money barons, financial interests and so on. Insofar as any man may lay claim to independence of thought the country editor seeks to maintain this ideal, often at material sacrifice. The same must be said of the editorial departments of our city papers. They are not under outside pressure, but are expressing sincere opinion.

So it may be accepted that the vast majority of newspaper men in Alberta honestly fear that the Social Credit policies as adopted by the government, are not going to prove a permanent and successful way of eliminating poverty and establishing prosperity. They may be wrong and the government may be right. Most reforms have been realized only after vehement opposition.

If Premier Aberhart succeeds in carrying out his plan of issuing basic dividends without creating any of the predicted catastrophes, he will have achieved a triumph which will impress the world, and which should bring humble apologies from those who have opposed him.

In the meantime, the Red Deer Advocate says: "Despite the reluctance of many Albertans to disclose their affairs to volunteer helpers, despite the huge cost of bookkeeping, etc., it will be better to get this registration business finished, the state credit houses established and the dividends issued, and then we'll see where we are."

The Vegreville Observer says: "Not one of the weekly papers is unsympathetic to the major end which Premier Aberhart has in view. If he and his ministers will cut out the talk and substitute some real action, then we are for him. But action must be taken on the grounds of reason, and not on the lines of the covenants we are asked to sign."

The Stettler Independent says: "Fortunately prosperity certificates will be given an airing before basic dividends, and the behaviour of the government's first-born should be studied before any attempt to launch basic dividends. We have to learn by experience and no longer by discussion and argument, and the more certificates we have in circulation

Tweedsmuir Strong Faith in Alberta

Speaking in Edmonton, Lord Tweedsmuir, Governor General of Canada, said:

"I am a Scottish Borderer and you are all borderers, as you live between the plains and the mountains. I think you have enough in this province to fulfill your desires. You have great riches—minerals, of which you have not begun to scratch the edge."

"I know you have been passing through hard years. This is my first visit here, but I have been struck by two things. First is the unlimited wealth awaiting development—both mineral and agricultural. You need fear nothing from the temporary setbacks when your ultimate prosperity is assured."

"In the second place I have been struck by the gallantry and fortitude of your people. There must be something in the prairie air that is stimulating. You have a great spirit in the west, along with both courage and fortitude."

"As an outsider I am glad to join with your premier and issue Alberta a Prosperity Certificate."

the more we will learn of their action and effect."

Alberta has been called an economic laboratory. Now we are entering the crucible."

COMMISSIONS

What is the purpose of Commissions? It is supposed that the purpose is to provide the government with information which will enable it to correct abuses which may exist. But the real purpose seems to be to create pleasant jobs for not specially-deserving people. Commissions rarely bring results. How frequently in the past few years the public has been stirred up by alleged injustices in some line of economic or industrial life. The public temper has demanded some action, so the government appoints a commission. And life goes on as before.

Maclean's Magazine of current issue mentions a few of these smoke screens, suggesting that it would be a good plan to appoint a Royal Commission to investigate the number, cost and value of other Royal Commissions.

"During recent years" says Maclean's "Commissions have been costing the country $400,000 annually. The Duff commission on transportation; the MacMillan banking commission; the Price Spreads commission (cost $350,000); the Maritime Rights commission, etc., etc.—all these have functioned, and what have the people had in results?"

"The packing industry at Winnipeg is threatened with a commission. There are the Turgeon Textile probe, the arm implement inquiry, the employment commission, the penitentiaries commission, the Government Fuel Board."

"Permanent officials of the government could have told the government all it wanted to know, for instance, on the price of farm implements."

"Governments are showing a tendency to conduct investigations for the purpose of making a political case that will assist the party. Case-making lawyers, employed at ludicrously fat fees, have cross-examined on this basis."

It seems if one government starts an investigation and is brown out of power, the next government ignores the accumulated data, and launches out on a prolonged investigation of its own. And since governments are chasing about as often as people have a chance to vote, the result is perpetual investigation and no action. Which explains where quite a bit of the money goes.

ALBERTA ROADS

Albertans have been hearing some stern truths about their roads these days. No matter from what direction tourists come, their remarks do not vary greatly. It was not many years ago that we used to note with some satisfaction that our main highways were superior to those of neighboring provinces. But now cross-continent tourists lament the bumpy, dusty stretches which must be travelled in this fair province, and which, they say, are the worst in a far from ideal west.

It cannot be expected that this newer part of Canada can achieve the perfection of the American highways in a year or in a decade. But the many signs of deterioration are a matter of concern to all motorists, in view of the fact that gas taxes pour in to the government.

Hon. W. A. Fallow has announced an ambitious road program, but he deals with an impatient public. Some action has been started in road improvement, but it is the misfortune of this and the preceding government that the high tide of road work seems to coincide with the high tide of motor travel. It does not seem that the pre-holiday season is utilized to the fullest extent, and as a result the highways present a cluttered appearance when the bulk of the tourist traffic is on.

Mr. Fallow's contemplated program is one thousand miles of dustless highways; to be completed within five years. This would mean an immense tourist revenue if it develops. But little has been done in the current year, and little time remains in which to make main highways fit for travel.

FORTUNATE NEBRASKA

Hanna Herald: If the early statesmen of Alberta had been as far-sighted as the people who provided the State of Nebraska with its constitution, we would be in splendid shape today. Nebraska's constitution limited the amount of bonded indebtedness to $100,000. At the end of the last fiscal year that state had nearly $22,000,000 in cash and "silt-edged investments, no bonded indebtedness or any other kind of indebtedness, no income tax, the lowest tax levy for state purposes in the United States. Nebraska had further a $10,000,000 capital building fully paid for, the fourth largest state university in point of enrollment and a wonderful system of dustless all-weather roads fully paid for.

TOURISTS

Although immigration is at a low mark, there is a temporary movement—that of tourists and other visitors—which reaches immense figures. In 1935 those who passed the Canadian immigration inspectors at boundary points and ocean ports reached the huge total of 24,788,501. In other words, the immigration department dealt with a temporary movement amounting to more than twice the entire population of the dominion. Marching seven abreast add six feet apart this huge army would form an unbroken procession from Halifax to Vancouver.

Australia is Now Out of Depression

Australia is definitely out of the depression, Lieut.-Col. L. Moore Cosgrave, Canadian trade commissioner to that island continent, said on his arrival at Windsor.

"Last year the wool clip reached world sales to the value of $200,000,000," he stated. "In addition she has cleared her wheat surplus and now has a normal crop. Her chilled and frozen meats have obtained an assured market abroad."

"Unemployment in the past year has dropped from 30 per cent. to 10 per cent., or to practically normal seasonal unemployment."

Canada's trade with Australia, which was $7,000,000 four years ago, rose to $23,000,000 last year, he added. That was, Australia bought about $11,000,000 worth of goods from Western Canada and $12,000,000 from eastern provinces.

U. S. Cattle Quota Is Nearly Filled

The customs commissioner reported that 98 per cent. of the quota of light cattle and 89 per cent. of the heavy cattle quota permitted to enter the United States this year under the Canadian trade agreement already have been imported.

Statistics for the first seven months of the year showed only 16.2 per cent. of the quota of dairy cows had been shipped into the country.

A total of 50,920 cattle under 175 pounds were imported during the period, 48,682 from Canada, and 2,238 from Mexico, representing 98 per cent. of the total allowable for the year. A total of 139,061 heavy cattle, weighing more than 700 pounds, had been received by American markets, including 119,288 from Canada and 19,773 from Mexico. The heavy cattle imports were 89.3 per cent. of the total allowable.

Canada sent 3,421 head of dairy cattle to this country. Mexico sent none.

Come to Vulcan August 27th. Enjoy the free entertainment.

Order In Council Don't Burn Straw

The Alberta government has passed an order-in-council that no straw stacks may be burned without a permit from Royal Canadian Mounted Police or some government authority. Hon. W. N. Chant, provincial minister of agriculture, warned.

Mr. Chant said the order had been passed because of the serious feed situation in the south.

And Grasshoppers Threaten for 1937

(From Lethbridge Herald)

When the 1936 crop was hit by drought so that, in many cases it was not worth trying to save it, poisoning of the grasshoppers ceased.

The result is that there are millions upon millions more grasshoppers flying about today, ready to lay eggs this fall to attack the crop next spring than there were a year ago. Hoppers are so thick today, we are told, that a good many dry land farm gardens which promised some return, despite the dry weather, have been laid waste.

The Herald does not know whether anything could have been done by continued setting out of poison bait. We imagine that the numbers could have been greatly lessened. But we do know that there are enough grasshoppers in South Alberta today to propagate one of the worst threats to the 1937 crop that we have ever experienced. Only a wet, cold spell at hatching time next year will make it possible to cope with them.

Forty-eight Vulcan merchants join with the Vulcan Board of Trade in extending to you a royal welcome to town on August 27th.

Rev. Father Rouleau of Nanton and Stavely will be transferred to Nemiskam and will be succeeded by Rev. Father Tennant.

DECORATE THE TOWN

Merchants, the 48 of them under whose direction the Vulcan Board of Trade is sponsoring the Dollar Day, community shopping event, next Thursday, August 27th, are asked to decorate their premises for the occasion. With a large crowd of shoppers from a 30-mile radius, expected to shop in Vulcan on Dollar Day, the decorations will create much impression. A motion passed at the Trade Board meeting reads "that all merchants display flags on sidewalks in front of premises and decorate stores for Dollar Day, August 27th."

Hogs Versus Wheat As Money Makers

While Canada has been searching the world for new markets for wheat a profitable outlet right at her doors has been neglected. That outlet was capable of absorbing 20 million bushels per year and would have paid in the neighborhood of 85 cents per bushel for comparatively low grade grain right at the farm.

The surplus wheat, however, would not have been sold in the form of grain but as bacon hogs to Great Britain. Practically ever since the signing of the Ottawa agreements there has existed in the United Kingdom a market capable of absorbing one and a quarter million more hogs than have actually been exported from Canada. During this period hogs have averaged well over 7 cents per pound or $14 per 200-pound bacon type animal.

Just what might have happened had Canadian wheat farmers possessed the necessary hog foundation stock is pictured by J. S. McLean, president, Canada Packers' Ltd., in his annual statement as head of that company. Mr. McLean says:

"Wheat can be converted into hogs. A bacon hog can be produced from approximately 16 bushels of wheat. If, out of the surplus of wheat, there had been produced during each of these three years an extra 1 1/4 million hogs, the amount of wheat consumed in the process would have been 20 million bushels per year. This conversion would have yielded the producers a very large profit—as between the market value of the wheat at the farm and the market value of the hogs at the farm. Moreover, by absorbing 20 million bushels of wheat per year it would have helped materially to relieve the burden of the overhanging surplus."

Prosperity certificates have built 11 miles of road in Acadia constituency. Wives and children of Medicine Hat relief strikers held several parades in Medicine Hat last week.

Jean Hersholt and other stars are at Callander, Ont., prepared to make another picture featuring Dionnes. Vulcan still centres the best wheat-growing district in Southern Alberta. Visit Vulcan August 27th for Dollar Day.

Nanton town council has agreed that the town pay one-third of the 1935 maintenance of the Highwood-Mosquito Creek water project, not to exceed $80.00.

Pertinent Topics

(By H. C.)

His mock heroics and his wild declamations had no effect upon the sober, common sense residents of a rural district. They assessed him at his fair value, but he managed to sell his demagoguery in Winnipeg where there is a section of the populace brought up in the faith that democracy means revolt against authority although that authority is the fruit of democracy.

We give it up. If anyone can explain why Stubbs should be regarded as a martyr because he was dismissed from the bench for conduct unbecoming a judge we should like to hear it. If any one can explain why a man who was regarded as unfit to administer the law should be placed in a position to make laws we should like to hear that, too. No one can say that two governments of different political stripes conspired to impeach him. The only explanation that can be given for his election is that his railings and ravings had their appeal in a city constituency containing a lot of people like himself. Abraham Lincoln was requested by an agent to write a recommendation of a book which the agent was selling and Lincoln wrote: "For a person who likes this sort of book this is the sort of a book he should have."

A tourist driving through the eastern provinces remarks upon the number of churches he saw, four or five in some small towns, two or three in some small villages. He thinks they must be having hard sledding, and so they are. If the crusade for union among Protestant churches had been delayed until hard times came, it would have scored much greater success, but the union that was attempted twelve years ago was premature and aroused so much antagonism and ill feeling that further efforts have been discouraged.

It would have been better if some party had got a sufficient majority in Manitoba. What will happen there is what happened in Quebec. Premier Bracken declares he is not a quitter and that he owes some responsibility to Manitoba, but Manitoba itself whittled down that responsibility to rather a fine point. He can carry on only in the way Mr. Taschereau carried on and probably to the same end. It never does a party any good to struggle on with a precarious majority, but the party in power hates the thought of giving up, and is liable to interpret its eagerness to hang on as a sense of duty, and responsibility to the State.

Mr. Bennett suspects that the King government's dealings in wheat were influenced by a desire to discredit his wheat policy which was to assure prairie farmers a reasonable price, even if it did cost the treasury a few million dollars. It looks now as if that object could have been attained without loss to the treasury, but the new government was under no obligation to carry out his policy seeing that the people he desired to benefit did not approve it any more than the rest of the people who feared its implications. At any rate, if the prairie farmers approved it they certainly did not say so at the polls.

There would have been no necessity to gamble in wheat futures if farmers could have been induced to feed wheat to hogs. Mr. J. S. McLean, president of Canada Packers, points out that in the past three years under the Empire treaties, Great Britain could have taken the products of 1-250,000 hogs more than she did. A bacon hog can be raised on sixteen bushels of wheat. The amount of wheat used in the process would have been twenty million bushels a year. This conversion would have yielded producers a very large profit as between the market value of the wheat at the farm and the market value of the hogs at the farm, and would have relieved the burden of the overhanging surplus of wheat. Seems reasonable, but mankind revolts against feeding to hogs a grain that for centuries has been destined for human stomachs. Wheat is now around the dollar mark but if it ever goes down to fifty or sixty cents we shall forget sentiments and tradition and feed the patriotic grain to the plebeian hog. Too bad we did not think of this in time. Broomhall on world surplus would have made pleasant reading; we should never have heard of McFarland or Murray and sensitive souls would not have been fretted by the thought that Canada was gambling in a big way on futures, while legislating to prevent sweepstakes.

"If you lend me a thousand dollar bill," said the stranger to Si, "You can have that bill."

There was no dispute, no shadow of varyin' Si lent upon a peak in Darien.

A girl now looks into the mirror to make sure that her hat is not on straight, says the Boston Herald. Sir Edward Beatty is so used to it he never has to look in a mirror.

At Quebec, President Roosevelt and Premier King talked about our good companionship, our hundred and twenty years of peace and our unforgotten borders. This does not mean that there were no jars or strife. We had our own tiffs, but we never got angry enough to go over there and lick the stuffing out of Uncle Sam. We have so many friends and relatives there that we never thought of such a thing. What good would it do us to give him a sound thrashing and annex all his territory? We have enough as it is, more in fact that we are able to handle properly and we have troubles enough too, without taking over any of his. Besides that, taking him by and large he has been a pretty good neighbor and we wouldn't hurt him for anything.

The United States need never fear that we will ever maltreat them, subjugate them and force them into this confederation of ours. If European nations were as benevolent, what a different world this would be. Instead of the borders being two lines of pill boxes and fortified trenches, there would be nothing there but two lines of peaceful custom houses. Statesmen of different countries would meet as Roosevelt and King did, not to talk armament and disarmament but to congratulate themselves that one is not needed and the other impossible. (This last clause does not refer to King and Roosevelt but to armaments and disarmament).

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, weak and the world looks pink.

A more bowel movement down 'always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel 'up and up'. Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of a million but have no alcohol or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. No.

Explains Use of

Alberta Credit

Function of Credit House and Method of Dividend Use

The following has been issued in connection with registration for Social Credit dividends.

By Alberta Provincial Credit, we mean credit created on behalf of the people by the Provincial Government for the purpose of distributing goods and paying for services.

This credit will be created by the placing of figures on the credit side of the person's account in a ledger.

It will be transferred by the use of a non-negotiable certificate issued by the person in whose account the credit stands.

The Credit House officials, on receipt of the non-negotiable certificate, will transfer the amount from the account of the individual signing it, to the account of the person in whose favor it is drawn: e.g., A receives a dividend of $5.00—which is given by placing the figure "5" on the credit side of his account in the Credit House. He purchases some Alberta-made goods from B to the value of $2.00. A issues to B a non-negotiable certificate, acknowledging the receipt of goods and authorizing the Credit House officials to transfer $2.00 credit from A's account to B's. This leaves A with a balance of $3.00 and gives B $2.00 extra in his account to enable him to replace the goods and realize his commission. If B desires, he can retain his receipts for several days, and then present them all in the Credit House to have the necessary transfers made. B now has sufficient credit to replenish his supply of Alberta-made goods.

The Alberta Provincial Credit will be created for the following purposes:

1. Monthly Basic Dividends to registered Alberta citizens only.
2. Interest-free loans to the retailers to enable them to buy a stock of Alberta-made goods.

LOYALTY in the pinches

WHEN the land is flowing with milk and honey, it is easy to have a host of friends. But when evil days come and the winds of controversy sweep biting over the land, the chaff is scattered and only the real kernels of friendship are left. Friends may argue with you. They may laugh at you or tell you what they think of you, but they are there when you need them, ready with a helping hand when the going is rough. They are loyal.

It is heartening to discover that loyalty is not the scattered virtue of a few but a widespread deep-rooted growth springing from the very hearts of the people. It has been a continual source of strength to us to find our readers staunchly with us through good years and bad, come fine weather or foul. They may disagree with us sometimes, they may question our opinions, they may on occasion burn our ears with scathing comments, but still they are our readers and our friends.

THEY know that we are as stoutly for Alberta and the common good as they are. They know that even if they disagree with our editorials, they will always find the whole unbiased truth in our news columns, the reports exactly as we receive them from reliable sources, accurate and uncolored.

We acknowledge with grateful appreciation the confidence that our readers have reposed in us and here renew our pledge to keep faith in continuing to give them a free untrammelled news service.

Truth must prevail—and the independent newspapers of Southern Alberta will follow it courageously wherever it is found.
